LOCAL BREVITIES.

The County Institute is in session at Bellevue.

County Court proceedings are published this week.

The leading question is, "How much money was there in the sack?"

St. Paul's Ladies Guild will meet this afternoon with Mrs. Collins.

The yield of hay this year will not be one-fourth what it was last season.

We've had two more showers the past week, but more rain is badly needed.

A party of young folks from Farmington expect to camp at the Iron Mountain dam next week.

Dr. L. Werblum, optician of St. Louis, will be in Ironton at the Keeling hotel Monday and Tuesday, July 1 and 2.

There will be a Basket Picnic on the Golden farm on Crane Pond, ten miles south of Ironton, Saturday, June 29th. All are welcome.

This section was visited by a very severe wind storm Tuesday evening that blew down a great many trees and did other damage.

A local tent of the Knights of Macabees will be organized here within the next week. The lodge starts with twenty-seven Charter members.

The Masons of Bellevue, Mo., will give an entertainment assisted by Miss Goodykoultz, the Elucationist, June 20th, 1901. Admission, 25 cents.

On the first page will be found a brief history of the cases against Sullivan, ex-Circuit Clerk of Jefferson county, which were recently tried here.

The dean of the Southern Convocation, Very Rev. L. F. Potter, will make an official visit to St. Paul's Episcopal Church Sunday and preach at night, on his way home from Poplar Bluff.

Misses Nettie and Lola O'Neal entertained a few friends at the residence of Mr. W. T. O'Neal, last Saturday evening. A very pleasant time was the result to the ladies and gentlemen attending.

Rev. W. R. McCormack of Fruitland was here last Friday for the purpose of uniting in marriage a couple from Doe Run, who had journeyed to this place and wanted the ceremony performed in Emerson's Park.

The idea of supplanting the wooden culverts on Main street with stone is very feasible one. Two of the new culverts have already been put in and they have every appearance of being good for a century to come.

The Twenty-Fourth Annual Commencement of the Ursuline Academy will occur Thursday afternoon, June 20th, 1901, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. Friends and patrons of the institution are cordially invited to attend.

Allan H. Hinchey, of Grandin, is in the city visiting his family for a few days. On his return Mr. Hinchey will be accompanied by his family to Grandin, where they will spend the summer months.—Poplar Bluff Citizen.

H. D. Williams, president of the Williams Co-operative Company at Poplar Bluff, has leased the Edgar residence in Russellville and will occupy the same during the summer months. Mr. Williams spent the summer here four years ago.

W. W. Strother has removed to Irondale where he has the contract for building number of houses. Mr. Strother is a careful and competent builder and the good people of Irondale will find him worthy their confidence.

Mr. A. J. Zwart, late of Chicago, has bought an interest in the Grand Leader Mercantile Company. We are pleased to have Mr. Zwart and his wife, formerly Miss Clara Parkhurst, locate in our town.—Farmington Times.

Our old friend, J. C. Brune, of Middlebrook, was a caller at this office Tuesday. Although past three score years and ten Mr. Brune is still active and vigorous, and gets around much livelier than many men twenty years his junior.

Mrs. Wm. Trauernicht, of Middlebrook, is now in a hospital in St. Louis, having recently undergone a surgical operation. The many friends of the family will be glad to learn that she is doing nicely and hopes to be home again before very long.

A month ago a large valise belonging to Mr. Ass Steel of Columbia, who is visiting his uncle, Rev. Geo. Steel, was stolen at the depot just as it had been taken from one of the night trains. No trace has been discovered of the valise or its contents.

Silas Vaughn wishes his friends and the public to know that he has opened a restaurant and lunch stand in the building across the street from Geo. Schults's saloon. Meals and lunches served at all hours of the day or night. Best service guaranteed to all. He respectfully solicits a share of the patronage.

FARM FOR SALE—Eleven acres; good dwelling, good barn and other outbuildings. Fine water; admirable location; two miles from Ironton. Will be sold at a bargain. Apply at once to C. C. Lashley, Ironton, Mo.

Sheriff Gregory and Constable Marshall went out to Black River Tuesday and arrested John Thomsen, who is charged with seduction. Thomsen is a married man about thirty-five years of age. Unless he gives bond he will remain in jail until the next term of Circuit Court.

C. S. Russell last Thursday brought to the REGISTER office a terrapin which he had that day found on which was notched the figures "1875." There were some initials on the shell but they could not be made out. After putting another date on the terrapin Mr. Russell released it.

Louis Miller of Arcadia is in St. Louis this week negotiating with the railroad people to secure control of the hotel grounds in Arcadia. If he is successful Mr. Miller will build a large and modern hotel on the premises—one that will be a credit to the Valley. It is to be hoped that his mission will not be in vain.

Representatives from the various Modern Woodmen Camps in Southeast Missouri held a meeting at Fredericktown, Saturday, June 1, 1901. A Southeast association was organized and the following officers elected: J. F. Anthony, Fredericktown, President; A. Rucker, Farmington, Vice-President; R. F. Williams, Jackson, Secretary; C. G. Whitworth, Ironton, Corresponding Secretary; J. S. Dalton, New Madrid, Treasurer. The first celebration will be held at Farmington, September 13, 1901.

Among the incidents of K. P. day here was the marriage of Mr. Fred Henson and Miss May Heinrich—both of Bonne Terre. The bride wore the K. P. colors, the groom and his best man were of the Uniform Rank in full dress, and the minister—Rev. Humphreys, of Fort Hill Church—was decorated with a K. P. reception badge and ribbon. It was a K. P. affair exclusively, and the REGISTER knows it that many a day will pass ere the celebration will be obliterated from the memory of at least two of our visitors. May they live long and happily.

There is considerable evidence to be had that the Belmont branch of the Iron Mountain road will soon be used very extensively by the Cotton Belt company for its through trains to St. Louis. The Cotton Belt has two corps of surveyors now at work below Delta locating a direct route for a line through to Memphis. If this line should be built, all through trains from St. Louis to Memphis and the Southeast will pass over the Belmont branch to Delta. The Cotton Belt company is now using the branch for one of its fast trains each way every day to the South.—Farmington News.

The pastor of St. Paul's Church announces that it is the intention to keep up the Wednesday evening services during the summer at 7:45, these not being omitted except on due notice. Next Wednesday evening an account will be given of the late convention in St. Louis, it being designed to consider subjects on week nights that could not be included in the regular Sunday preaching, such as reasons for the decline of the Episcopal Church in some parts of Missouri, the meaning of ritualism, the proposed change of name, etc. Friday morning service which is one of intercession will continue at 10.

A gentleman by the name of Spence from Bonne Terre spent several days of last week in Ironton with a view of establishing a local telephone system in the Valley. His idea is to have the system take in Ironton, Arcadia and Pilot Knob, and connect with the local system in St. Francois county. Mr. Spence wants to organize a local stock company, with a capital stock of about $2,000 to establish the system, but says if he is not successful in that effort, he will put up all the money himself. There is no question but what a telephone system badly needed here. It is the greatest convenience of modern inventions and we hope the wires will soon be strung.

The pastor of the Presbyterian church is making arrangements to hold a "Gospel Assembly" here July 23 to Aug. 7. The day meetings will be given to Bible study and conferences on the problems of Christian work. The night meetings will be evangelistic. Rev. Chester Birch, the musical evangelist, has been engaged to conduct this feature of the work during the second week, August 1-7. Rev. A. J. Chestnut, Potosi; Rev. G. F. Ayers, Ph. D., Poplar Bluff; Rev. R. Mason, De Soto; Rev. P. F. George, V. D., and W. H. Herriock, St. Louis, and others have been engaged to speak upon the various subjects to come before the Assembly. Still other speakers of note are to be secured. Two days of the second week are to be given to the "County Sunday School Convention," during which prominent State Sunday School workers will speak. The meetings will probably be held in a tent. A cordial invitation is extended to all ministers and members of all denominations in this and neighboring communities to come and assist in all the meetings. The whole public is also very cordially invited to attend the meetings—especially those at night. Further announcement will be made later.

The precincts of Middle Ironton were exercised last Monday over the alleged finding of a sack of gold and silver, amounting, as nearly as can be determined—for the finder is close-mouthed—to about two thousand dollars. The following account is given as taken from the lips of our worthy postmaster and the proprietor of the Greater Bonanza, both claiming to have witnessed the "find." On the day above named, Mr. Barnhouse of the "Good Luck" was engaged in repairing his store-house, which is situated on main street, a little north of the G. B. and the post-office and on the opposite side of the street. In the course of the repairs it became necessary to tear away the wooden awning, which had been built in the early days of the war, and was considered unsafe. With languid interest the gentlemen above named watched the proceedings across the street, philosophizing upon the passing of old and familiar landmarks, etc., etc., with an occasional mild criticism of the work in hand. Mr. Barnhouse himself was one of the workers. After the awning had been removed and there remained only the decayed piece of timber which had held it to the building, he with another man mounted a ladder to detach it. This was soon accomplished. As the timber was wrenched loose from its anchorage, behold! A leathern sack with seemingly heavy contents fell to the ground. Mr. B. hastened down the ladder, secured the prize and disappeared into the house. This is all that is really known to the narrators of the incident, but the fact that a gentleman reports he saw Mr. Barnhouse deposit a thousand dollars in the bank—nearly all in gold and silver—next day, indicates that the contents of the sack were not without value. When the knowledge of the finding of the treasure became known, speculation as to when and by whom it was deposited became rife. Also, as to who is the real owner of the property, or if the State has a claim upon it. The late owner of the property, who sold it to Mr. B. only a month or two ago, thought he ought to come in somewhere; Mr. Gay talked of filing some sort of a claim, and others having still remoter interest hoped in some way to get a chance at the treasure. Various legends as to stolen money never recovered in the days long gone by were recalled, and the excitement grew. Squire Fairchild was appealed to, and he searched his law-books over to find a just and legal method of adjustment, but, since he has also a quasi claim by reason of his recent incumbency of the store-house, his decision has been appealed from. How the matter will be finally adjusted no man can tell. Meantime Mr. Barnhouse has possession, which is "nine points of law," as everybody knows. Of course, the REGISTER, of its own knowledge, can't say how much the sack contained; but it has the statements of Messrs. Bishop and Byers, and both are truthful men and prominent citizens. As the facts in the case develop they shall be given the public.

Flower Parades.

Many of the REGISTER's readers need no information about flower parades, what they imply and their possibilities in the way of expression of individual taste and originality. But suggestions are always acceptable, even to the best informed; and the writer hopes that some ideas may be presented, worthy at least of passing interest.

The flower parade is preeminently the parade of the ladies, and therefore the parade of daintiness, beauty and ingenuity. Given a "cleanlimbed" horse and a fairly good vehicle, a woman call to her aid all the realm of finery and fragrances, roses, ribbons, and all that is in short, all the factors that make up beauty and brilliancy and with them, transform a surly or landau—say! even the homely sulky—into a moving poem. And this carnival of beauty is capable of infinite diversity. It is not enough to cover the salient outlines of a go-cart or phaeton with garlands. The wheeled carriage is transformed, idealized and ennobled. Heroism will be a glorious sea-shell in delicate pinks—just as it might lie at your feet on the sea shore. There an ancient chariot wheels by in graceful masque—and again, Titania's fairy vehicle glides by on silent modern rubber tires.

In the arrangement of color, an almost limitless freedom is permissible, but it is not well to mix diverse colors without some deference to the laws of harmony. The best results are always attained by preserving color values, (as in painting) arranging solid masses to complementaries, and avoiding all suggestions of artificiality and stiffness. There is a bewildering prodigality of color to depend upon—blended hues ranging through the whole scale of the primaries; from snowy white to the deepest of reds—from cream to flaming orange—from heavenly blue to the purple depths of the royal pany. Innumerable shades and forms of green await the decorating hand—mosses, lichens, vines, seed pods, garlands and cunning tapestry of nature's weaving—who can recount all the material, ready at hand, to inaugurate a parade of Lady Flora!

May she have regal honors in this, her native and lovely domain: Arcadia Valley. OLEANDER.

A Sprained Ankle Quickly Cured.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed." Sold by all druggists.

What They Say of Ironton.

The K. P. celebration at Ironton on last Tuesday was well attended, there being about 4,000 people present. Ample arrangements had been made by the citizens of Ironton for feeding and for the crowds present. The town was beautifully decorated with bunting and flags. There was a parade in the afternoon in which there were some twelve or fifteen floats representing the various orders and industries of that thriving little city. Taking everything into consideration Ironton acquitted herself nobly in handling and showing hospitality to the crowd present.—Reynolds Outlook.

The races, the band contests, the speaking, the parade, and all the other amusements were much enjoyed by all the visitors, and when the worst out excursionists reached Bonne Terre, at three o'clock, Wednesday morning, they were all unanimous in the opinion that the K. P. celebration was the best thing that ever happened and that Ironton people were the most hospitable in Missouri.—Bonne Terre Star.

The meeting at Ironton Tuesday of the 11th District K. P. Association was one of the largest ever held in South-east Missouri and the good people of Ironton, one and all, did everything they could to make the thousands of visitors have a pleasant day.

The decoration of the houses and street was very fine and especially worthy of mention was the electric arch over Main street. The parade, which took place at 2 o'clock, was led by the Uniformed Division, of Bonne Terre, and contained twenty floats, representing the various businesses of the town and fraternal orders.—De So to Republican.

Our town seemed almost depopulated Tuesday on account of so many of our people going on the excursion to Ironton to attend the K. P. celebration. Ninety two tickets were sold from here besides a number boarded the train without tickets and others went on the regular passenger train, so we feel safe in saying that fully 100 went from Piedmont to attend the celebration. Although it was an exceedingly hot and dusty day a general excitement was reported and all say that Ironton did herself proud in entertaining the vast throng of people.—Piedmont Banner.

A large number of Knights of Pythias and others were in Ironton yesterday at the celebration. All reported a good time.—St. Francois Herald. About forty-three Potosians attended the Knights of Pythias celebration at Ironton on Tuesday last. Among them were Circuit Clerk I. A. Letcher, Collector of the Revenue T. F. Blount and Attorney E. M. Dearing.—Potosi Independent.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by all druggists. Trial bottles free.

Des Arc.

We have had a fine rain but we still need more.

Over 1000 tickets were sold Tuesday for Ironton on account of the K. P. celebration. It was the soberest crowd I ever saw to be such a large number of them. No one drank on our train coming back—the first time such a thing ever happened. There was one thing connected with the celebration that day we thought was entirely wrong, and that was the hotels charged 50 cents a meal and a good many went in to dinner, (old customers), thinking it only 25 cents, and when they went to settle had to pay 50 cents. Young Lewis down here took two young ladies to dinner, thinking it would be 25 cents, but when he went to pay it was 50 cents. He says he will never go there again. If it had been for benevolent cause or charity it would not have looked so bad, but it was self gain. It was a wonder the saloons hadn't put their beer to 10 cts. a glass. The floats were a credit to Ironton, and the blacksmith shop on wheels was the best of all. The two darkies fairly played a tune on the anvil. It was the biggest crowd since then. Price made his visit to Ironton during the war.

E. W. Graves while in the city last week bought a piano, or in other words, a machine that plays on the piano in place of the lady. It is an instrument by means of which any one can play the piano without study and without practice. It is hardly possible to believe until you hear it. It is a beautiful thing, as a musical cabinet, beautifully proportioned in oak or mahogany. You simply roll it up to the key board and it is ready to play. There is a roll of paper to be inserted in sockets and a pair of foot treadles, which regulate degree of force and speed as the player wills. Playing directions appear upon the paper as the roll unrolls. The thing is complete. Every style of music is played, from the opera down to coon songs, including marches etc. It cost two hundred and fifty dollars and the music is very accurate—no mistakes. It is a treat to hear it play. What will they get up next?

J. S. O'Neal and wife, of Mill Springs, visited relatives at this place Sunday.

Mrs. McKee, of Cape Girardeau, is visiting her son, W. E. McKee, at this place.

E. W. Graves made a flying trip to Keener Sunday night.

Mr. Reed and daughter, of Texas, are visiting his sister, Mrs. Loyd, at this place.

Mrs. P. M. Kimmel, of Cardwell, is visiting relatives near this place.

Miss Anna Morris is visiting her sister at Mill Springs.

Joe Reed is home from Arkansas on a visit to his mother.

J. D. Hickman made a flying trip to Ironton Sunday.

Chas. Downy, our night operator, was also in Ironton Sunday.

The Des Arc boys have organized a base ball team at this place and have chosen J. D. Hickman as acting captain. They would be glad to hear from all teams in neighboring towns. The game last Sunday between the 1st and 2d nine resulted in a score of 11 to 5, in favor of the former.

The revival which has been in progress at this place closed last Tuesday night. Bro. Williams and Calvert did good work while at this place. The meetings were well attended and had the meeting continued longer, we think it would have been more successful. There were seven converts. Bro. Williams is an able speaker and we are always glad to welcome him in our midst. He left for his home in Kentucky Tuesday morning on the fast mail.

Seven Years in Bed.

"Will wonders ever cease?" inquire the friends of Mrs. L. Pease, of Lawrence, Kan. They knew she had been unable to leave her bed in seven years on account of kidney and liver trouble, nervous prostration and general debility; but, "Three bottles of Electric Bitters enabled me to walk," she writes, "and in three months I felt like a new person." Women suffering from Headache, Backache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells will find it a priceless blessing. Try it. Satisfaction is guaranteed by all druggists. Only 50c.

Institute Notes.

The Iron County Teachers Institute met at Bellevue Monday morning, June 10, 1901, with an attendance larger than on any corresponding day for several years. The teachers, since, have continued to enroll and we are sure that by the time for the examinations there will be the largest attendance ever before had in Iron county.

But little was done Monday in the way of regular institute work. After a cordial address of welcome by Mr. Hawkins, the conductor, he assigned work for the succeeding day and we adjourned till nine o'clock Tuesday.

Mr. Gass, of Jefferson City, Mo., met with us Tuesday and delivered several very interesting addresses on various subjects. Mr. Gass is a fluent talker and is especially enthusiastic on the subject of "The Missouri School Journal," which paper is, without doubt, very helpful to every progressive teacher.

The work promises to be very interesting and helpful. There is a growing sentiment in favor of the new institute course.

Every teacher owes it as a duty to himself and his fellow teachers to attend this institute.
